PAUL E. YODER
B.A., B.S., M.Ed.
Superintendent

Dear Seniors:

Bethany has a Biblical connotation involving some of the most enjoyable and important experiences of Jesus as he daily demonstrated to his friends the graciousness of a person in the will and plan of God.

Jesus found rest and relaxation in a Bethany home. He experienced a sharing fellowship with a Bethany family. Jesus was welcomed and served by Bethany friends. He was also able to minister in a Bethany tragedy--the death of Lazarus.

On several occasions Jesus with his disciples found an overnight retreat from the blare of big city noise and the hostility of religious leadership by walking to Bethany. In the morning, refreshed and renewed, he walked again with his small company of friends to his place of service in Jerusalem.

This span of time in the life of Jesus has true significance for everyone who claims to walk with Jesus as a Christian. When I first felt that God was leading me to Bethany these events in Jesus' ministry kept recurring to my thoughts. They formed within me a passion to serve you in such a manner that in the years following your graduation, you might discover the strength of conviction, the clarity of vision, the challenge of service which Jesus possessed and that your years at Bethany might have laid down the base upon which these arise.

Jesus chose Bethany; he needed Bethany; he enjoyed Bethany. It was from Bethany that he began his trip to Calvary and beyond. You chose Bethany; you needed Bethany; you enjoyed Bethany. Where are you headed as you leave Bethany? God has a road for you to travel--but you make the choice!

I've learned to appreciate you this year as the campus leaders. Rest assured that I shall often remember your senior year at Bethany as I hear of your achievements and experiences as Bethany Alumni.

Sincerely,

Paul E. Yoder

We are the Seniors. We are successful. We are mature. We are educated. We are respected. We have achieved.

Two record fish fries are scored in our favor. A year of progress in soccer and basketball add prestige to our group. A grade point average higher than that of any other class promotes respect.

These qualities add up to make us a group of well-rounded, informed adults. We are a team that holds Bethany together. Next year we will be Freshmen, but now we are the elders, the Seniors.

"Jolly Juniors?" Yes, most of the time, but we have our serious moments too. Now that we have learned to socialize, we love it. But to us, this hasn't been just a year of fun, but also a year of problems and of answers. It has been one of failure and success, of dependence and independence. We've asked and answered questions. We've searched and found. We've looked into the past with fond memories and to the future with hope. Through our laughter and our tears, we've seen our mistakes and have tried to correct them. We've learned the meaning of responsibility. But most important, this has been a year of learning and growing.

We are sophisticated sophomores although new knowledge may manage to remold our mental makeup. We are no longer green and goofy. We know the angles of high school. We can settle down to work and have fun. Probing life. Searching for meaning. Goals start to solidify. Lasting friendships flourish. Personalities are resurrected. Days, weeks, and months mechanically merge. Vacations sprint past us. Through all this we manage to scrape up bits of knowledge here and there which we will store in our minds, possibly for later use.

The main thing, however, is that we're for real and we won't let anyone forget it.

HISTORIANS AND POLITICIANS

The Social Studies Department consists of world history taught by Mr. Yoder and U. S. history and government and sociology taught by Mr. Hollinger.

World history, a sophomore course, develops cultural values in the student.

As the Juniors study U. S. history, they follow the American struggle for freedom step by step until we became the great country which has kept us free and independent for nearly 200 years. Reenacting the famous Presidential campaign of 1824 enlivened the course.

Government, a senior course, gives the student an idea of his responsibility as a citizen in the local government as well as the state and national governments.

BLENDING GRAMMAR, PROSE, AND POETRY TO MOLD

Our literary genius, Ray Hunsberger, gives his evaluation of THE MERCHANT OF VENICE.

From the grammar of the Freshman year to the Shakespeare of the Senior year; from the numerous book reports of the Sophomore year to the Whitman and Poe of the Junior year; the study of English encompasses much.

Yet, however varied the studies in this department may be, they are all guiding the student toward the same goal. That goal is to promote better understanding through better communication.

Brainwashed German students after a difficult quiz.

The first year for the Spanish and German students is dedicated to becoming acquainted with the language by singing, writing reports, and translating conversations. Second-year students mainly read and discuss the conversations. Fourth-year German students read articles by famous German authors. Later in the year they present a German play.

New headsets in the laboratory aid both the German and Spanish classes. They help the student to learn to enunciate more distinctly and to sense the sentence structure.

Highlights of both language classes are a night of caroling, parties, and a genuine Spanish supper.

LANGUAGE ARTS

SCIENCE: A BEGINNING . . . BUT NO ENDING

Dissecting requires patience and dexterity.

Physics is the study of laws and theories that govern matter and energy and their transformations, as they apply to heat, acoustics, electricity, and magnetism. Along with Chemistry, in which chemical properties of substances, are analyzed suggests to the scientifically minded student a possible future profession.

The required Biology class helps students to gain knowledge and to appreciate God's creation. Their brief study of plants, animals, and man reveals the complexities of cells, organs and bacteria.

Paul observes the reaction of PoO_2 heated over a flame.

A chemist's laboratory from the chemical's viewpoint.

MATH: THE LANGUAGE OF SCIENCE

Norma, in Senior Math, appears to be engrossed in a lecture.

Two courses of algebra and general math, along with plane geometry, are taught by Mr. Graber. First year algebra students learn the basic axioms and operations of algebra. Through the course of the second year the student works for speed and accuracy. The final step in the course is an introduction to the basic fundamentals of trigonometry. Geometry also proves to be very helpful in many ways after the student leaves school.

Senior math, which includes trigonometry, solid and coordinate geometry, is taught by Mr. Hartman. This course gives the college-bound student an insight into what mathematics on the college level is like.

Marilyn studies the minute intricate parts of the ear.

Health, a one-semester course, affords an opportunity for students to better understand their physical and mental make-up.

Functions of various parts of the body are studied in detail along with an extensive study of mental health and mental disorders. Other topics of discussion include personality and emotions. Many films are shown throughout the year to aid these studies.

UNDERSTANDING BODY FUNCTIONS

A Health class discussion concerning posture?

Adjusting the rear-view mirror is a worthwhile habit to acquire for safe driving.

Everyone looks forward to the day when he can get his driver's license. To help the prospective driver gain knowledge of how to operate the car, traffic laws and such, Bethany provides a course called Driver's Education. One could spot the students anywhere from Syracuse to Elkhart on their precarious journeys. Interesting observations can be made watching the reactions of drivers and passengers of passing cars.

After the required 30-hour classroom study and 6 hours of driving time, Mr. Friesen bids his students farewell.

PROPER INSTRUCTION INSURES SAFE DRIVING

DEVELOPMENT THROUGH SPIRITUAL GUIDANCE

Interpreting scriptures.

Fourth-period Christian Doctrine discussion.

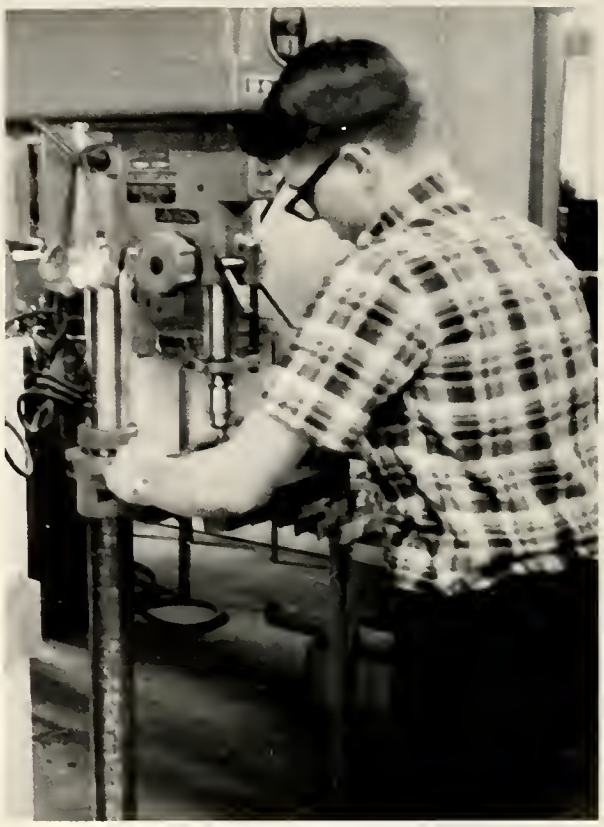
The Bible courses are designed to give the student a better understanding of the BIBLE and its applications in our present day.

The Freshmen and Sophomores study the Old Testament. Seeing how God led the children of Israel, studying the prophets, and noting how everything in the Old Testament points to the coming of the Messiah are just a few goals of these classes. Christian Doctrine aids the Juniors in understanding the doctrines of the BIBLE and the Church. The Seniors study the history of the Church; its beginning and turning points.

These classes serve as an inspiration to the students, helping them form a solid theological basis for their lives and molding them into the church leaders of tomorrow.

Don points out a discrepancy in the text.

Bethany's Industrial Arts department includes electricity, woodworking, metals, mechanics, and mechanical drawing. In the woodworking and metals courses the students mainly work on projects of their own design, learning the various techniques involved. The student in the electricity classes studies the electrical current, its use and control. The auto mechanics student studies the various types of engines and learns to repair them.



Ray experiments with the drill press.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS PROVIDES PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Precision requires practice.

Agriculture students, at the Chicago Livestock Exhibition...

UNDERSTANDING AGRICULTURAL PRINCIPLES

Three courses offered in agriculture at Bethany are taught by Mr. Culp. Animal husbandry is designated for the Freshman-Sophomore level. It explains the most efficient way of raising livestock and poultry. This class, annually, visits the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

Soils and crops is given at a Sophomore-Junior level. This course discusses the most useful production of crops, conservation of the soil, and its fertilization.

Farm management, offered for the Seniors introduces ideas for the most efficient way of managing a farm and of keeping important records.

HOME ECONOMICS. . CREATIVE

Ruth Ann and Sharon view the exquisitely designed gifts.

The Home Economics courses at Bethany are full of enjoyment, learning, and creativity.

Sewing classes, meal planning, flower arrangements, and home crafts are only a few of the various aspects of homemaking studied by the students. Other courses offered such as home management, family living, and child care, will prove to be extremely helpful to the homemakers of tomorrow.

DISPLAYING AND IMPROVING

In an institution of higher learning such as Bethany education of the individual's mind is the foremost objective. However, if this were the only objective, what a dull school year it would be. At Bethany each student is required to enroll in a Physical Education course for two years; the other two years are optional. Many students choose to take Physical Education all four years for recreational purposes and as a change of pace in the normal school day.

Using the trampoline requires precise timing and good form.

SKILLS . . . CO-ORDINATION

Physical Fitness Tests help to determine one's improvement.

Jane expresses herself creatively in a painting.

Color, shape, texture - what can be done with them. Blobs, gook, mess - experiment and see what you can do. Probably we, the art class, would have continued with blobs, gook, and mess if we would have been left to ourselves, but fortunately Mrs. Bauer knows more about art than her dozen students. Under her leadership we were able to create amateur masterpieces unique to each personality. Tempera painting, sculpturing, printing, and oil painting took on new interest and dimensions and we enjoyed exploring them.

Becky leads the class in a song.

Music class is a requirement for all freshmen and sophomores wishing to join any of the choruses. In Music I the student studies the fundamentals, reviewing such things as scales, the staff, and major and minor keys. A rather detailed study of the orchestra and learning how to read and direct music are also part of Music 1.

In Music II the student devotes himself to a deeper study of the music itself; its construction and form. He also studies the different types and periods of music, such as Baroque, Classical, Romantic and Contemporary; and the famous composers of these periods.

CULTURAL DEVELOPMENT THROUGH MUSIC

Music I students study the fundamentals of a simple hymn.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Mary Lehman and Steve Bauer. Not shown - Jared Yoder.

The Student Council at Bethany serves as a vital link in communication between the student body and the administration. Through it, any student is able to voice his opinion, complaint, or suggestion directly to the administration.

The fourteen members of the Student Council consist of the president, the vice-president, and three representatives from each of the four classes. The secretary and treasurer are selected from the representatives.

The projects and services undertaken by the Student Council this year may be listed as follows: the Get-Acquainted Social early in the year, and All-School Work Day for the paving of the parking lot, and elaborate Christmas Banquet, the selling of concessions over the noon hour, Student Teaching Day, and the well-organized All-School Social.

Thus the Student Council plays a vital role in Bethany life---a role that can be made even more important with the total co-operation, support, and participation of every student.

WITMARSUM STAFF

The staff of the WITMARSUM has attempted to portray the real Bethany as it is. In its pages are contained the activities and experiences of the student at Bethany. If a person were to visit Bethany he would find that the life of the student centers around crowded halls, chapel services, classroom lectures, social engagements and sporting events.

The careful layout arrangements, choice of pictures, headings, captions, and selection of well-written articles combine with long hours, sleepless nights, and just plain hard work to make the 1967 WITMARSUM a book that will bring back memories of learning experiences and be cherished for many years.

Bethany's REFLECTOR strives to bring to the students interesting summaries of events that have happened and information concerning events to come. It provides an opportunity for students to use their creative abilities and also invites the student body to express their opinions. Thus, students are given a chance to learn editing by active participation on the staff.

Choruses, selected each year by Mr. Lehman, form a large part of Bethany's music program. This year marks a change in the formation of the choruses. Instead of a girls' and boys' chorus as in previous years, the Varsity Chorale of mixed voices has been created along with a smaller A Cappella Chorus. About sixty select voices compose the Chorale and forty, the A Cappella. For a Christmas program the choirs combine to present portions from Handel's "Messiah."

In addition to these two larger groups, is a small group of Juniors and Seniors selected from the A Cappella Chorus. Known as the Chamber Singers, they sing a variety of music, but primarily folk songs.

Seeking spiritual insight through prayer.

Someone needed to talk to a friend, tell him of a problem, share with him a new idea, a spiritual discovery. That need might've led to the formation of a prayer group.

YPCA-sponsored prayer cells meet every Tuesday noon. Entering the chapel at this time may bring to your eyes the scene of scattered groups, members of which are talking or bowing in prayer. Eyes often sparkle with enthusiasm as a new idea is unfolded. Hearts are sometimes touched as the longing for an experience with God, shared with friends, becomes a reality.

SENIORS CLAIM NEW RECORD. . 3500

As in each year since the fish fry was originated, a new record has been set. A large amount of this success should be contributed to the efficient planning of Susan Gardner and Jim Gingerich. Through their and many other's efforts, it proved to be an outstanding fish fry.

We'll always remember the constant cry for more fish, people who can't read "no parking" signs - and the renegade band of boys who had unique ideas on cleaning up. But we, the Class of '67, are proud of a job well done.

"There she goes again, stickin' her fingers in the pie."

Renewal of old aquaintances proved the "fry" to be beneficial in more than one way.

POUNDS OF FISH DEVOURED

Cleanup was an accepted part of the fish fry.

Mt. Vernon revealed to us partially the environment of our first President.

The Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was a stirring spectacle.

THE SENIORS INHABIT WASHINGTON

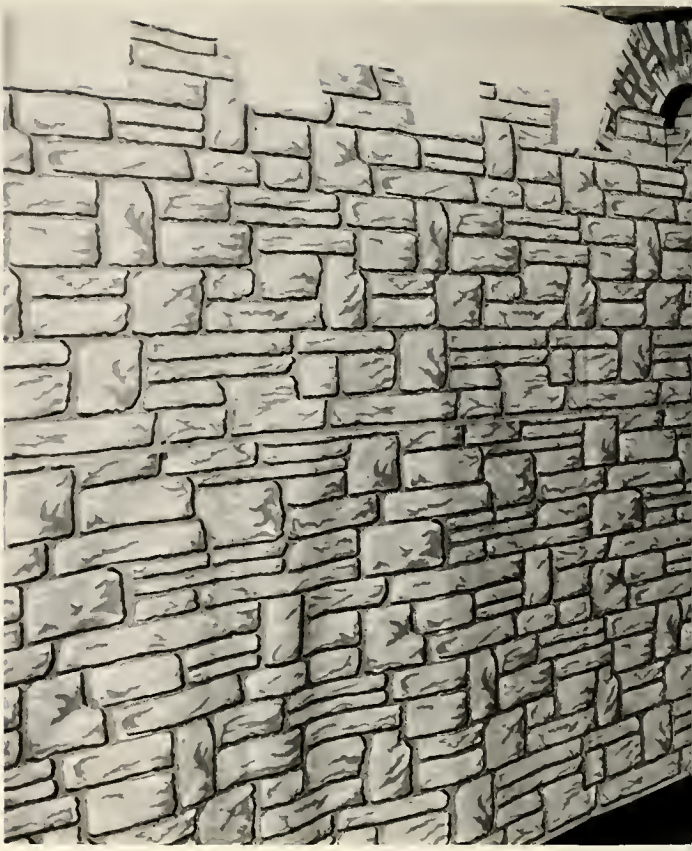
Mutual admiration society?

"There's Lyndon now....Come on Glen, just because you're a Republican...."

On October 23, the Seniors invaded the business world of Washington, D.C. Frustration cannot describe our feelings after arriving at our motel at 6:00 A.M. that Wed. morning, to clean up in rest rooms. But, nevertheless, we began our tours after breakfast at Mt. Vernon. For the next three days we viewed the White House, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Capitol building, and numerous other points of interest. Our aching feet vowed never to return to the Washington Monument. But now ....the cherished moments of an experience of yesterday can linger only in the minds of those who shared them.

Need we say anything.

The Supreme Court stood before us, robed in splendor and majesty.



Enter ye in at the drawbridge; for wet is the water and loud

THE NIGHT

The chapel hall decorated like a medieval castle surrounded by a moat, along with the King and his court, helped to set the mood for the '66 Jr.-Sr. Banquet. Medieval singing and jesting throughout the course of the evening carried the setting splendidly. A short movie brought the memorable event to a close.

Junior girls converse over King Arthur and his Roundtable.

plash which leadeth to the moat.

OF CHIVALRY

In the days of Knight errantry, the land was ruled by kings and queens.

CHRISTMAS

Peace on earth?...this is the theme that set the mood for our Christmas banquet. After a gay meal and a few hearty jokes by Ben Nelson, we settled down to a more serious note. "Silent Night and the 10 o'clock News" was sung by Jim Krabill and Steve Dintaman with John Bontreger as commentator. Mr. Steiner, the guest speaker, then spoke on the topic, "Love Overcomes Hatred."

STUDENT TEACHER DAY

On February 8, once again students took the position in front of the class as teachers sat back and relaxed. Student Teacher Day is becoming a tradition at Bethany and the result is not only fun, but also learning on the part of students and teachers.

Discipline, which was one of the greatest problems faced by the "teachers" was handled differently in almost every class and often proved to be quite humorous.

By the end of the day most of the student teachers gladly gave their jobs back to the real teachers, realizing that a teacher's life isn't really as easy as it seems.

Teaching requires additional reading and study.

Some take advantage of their newly acquired positions.

John Bauman instructs the Spanish class in the use of the proverb conjugation.

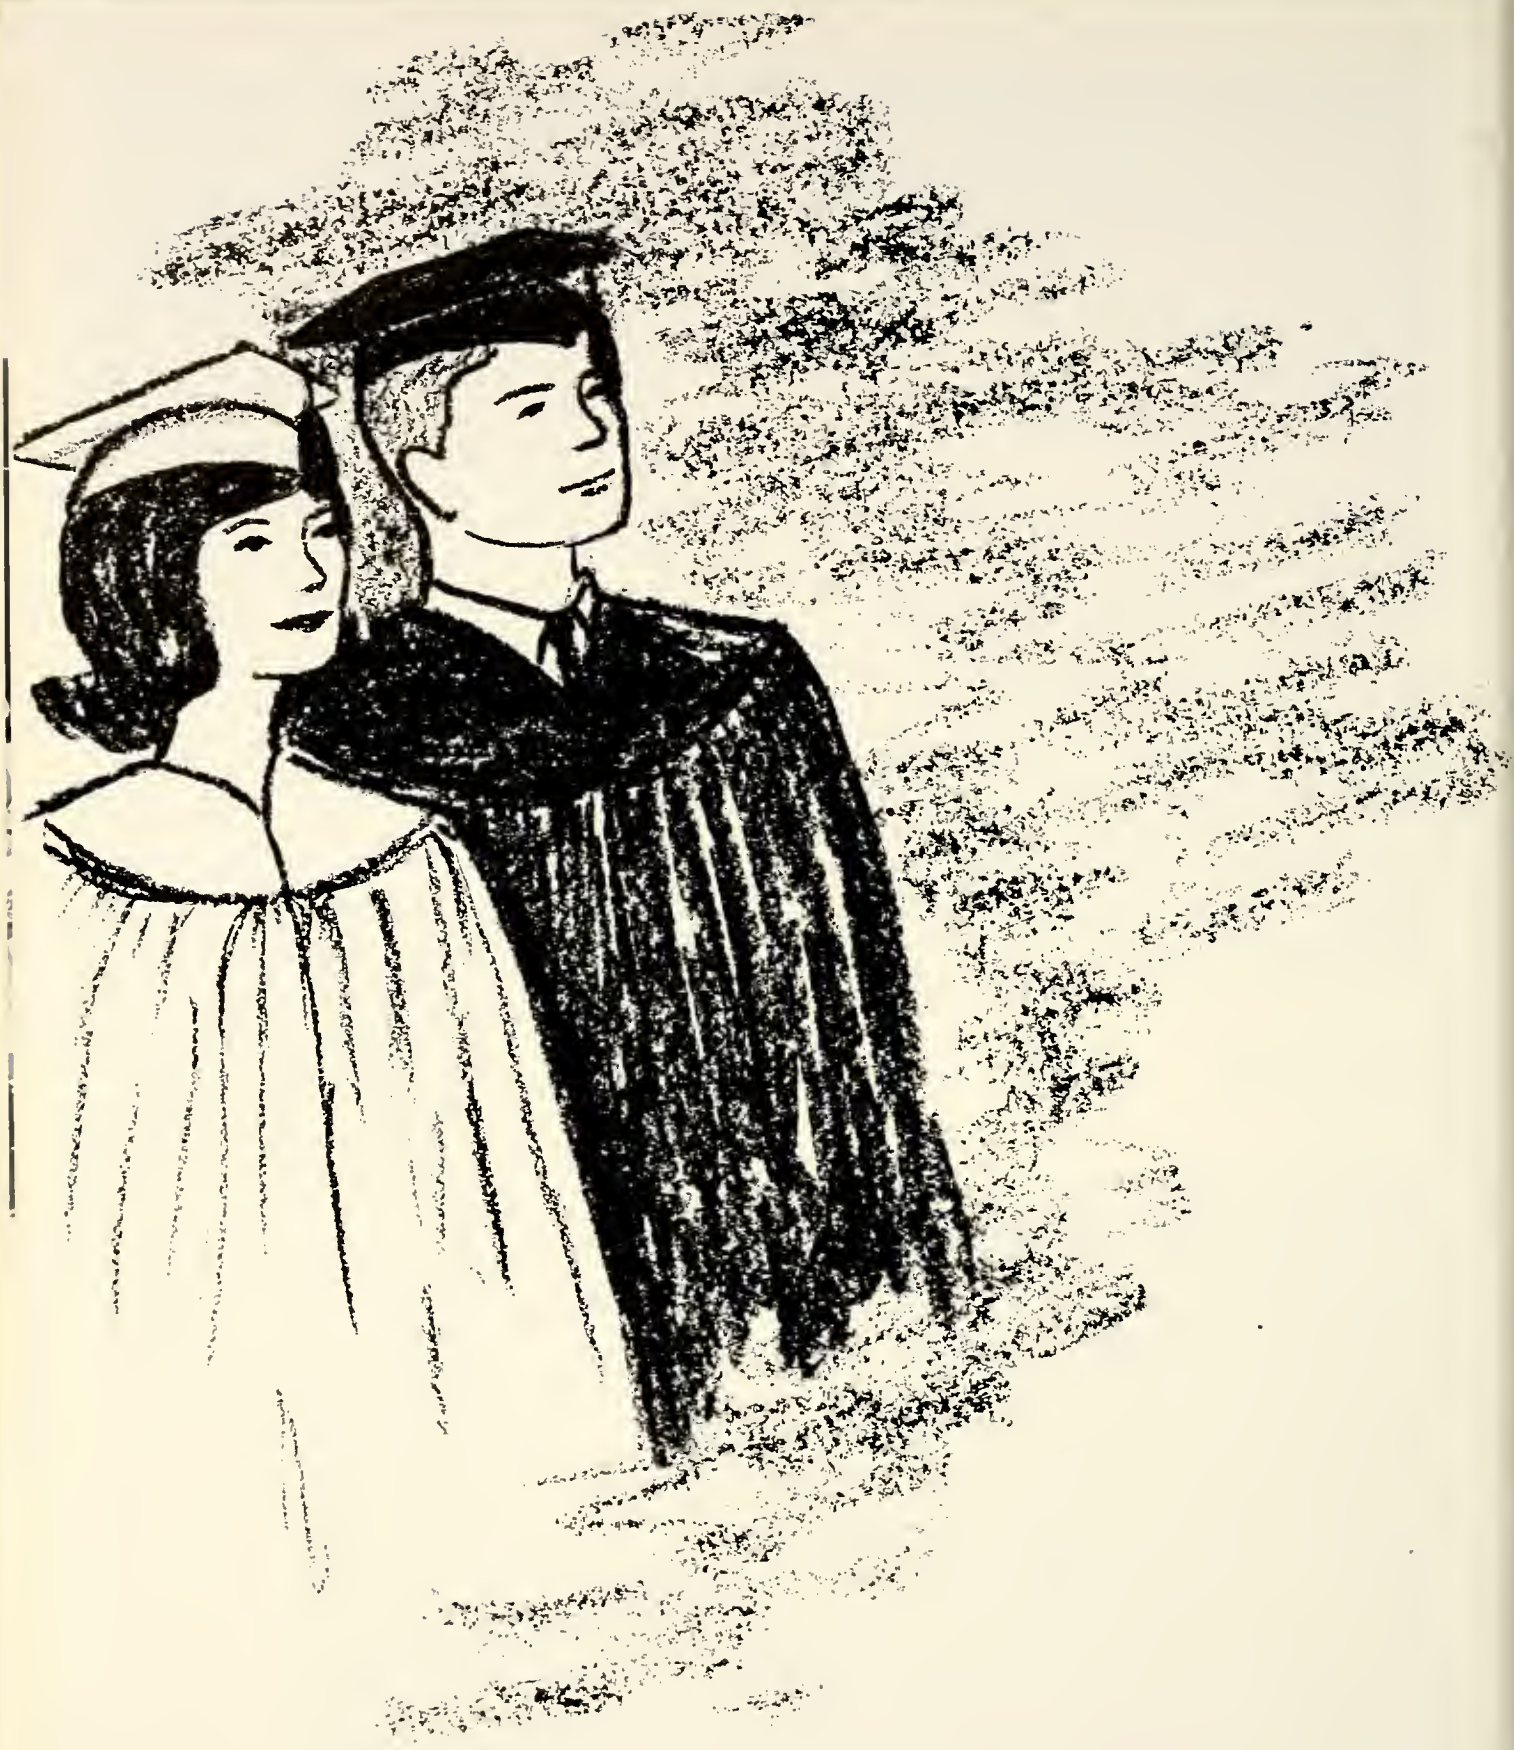
5-3 RECORD



We have just passed through another season of learning. Although our past four years have been filled with many trials and decisions, we have gained many lasting friendships and memories.

We have been in a process of becoming. We are grateful for Bethany Christian High School, which has aided this process by strengthening our mental, physical, and spiritual growth.

Uncertainty encircles tomorrow. Yet, we have come to the crossroads. Beyond lies an open door called opportunity.

The WITMARSUM - 1967. Only a shadow of Bethany Christian High School.

Within these pages lies a partial account of what was sensed, achieved, and experienced in the year 1967.

You may like or dislike this publication -- the coverage, its humor, or its peculiar tilt. But to us, the WITMARSUM staff, this is how that shadow fell.

It is possible to thank only a few of the readers of this delightful experiment. With the distribution of this finished yearbook the gratitude of the staff goes to: Peggy Troyer, Kathy Bennett, Betty Miller, Roger Rheinheimer, Richard Yoder, Miss Nancy Gerber, Lester Culp, Moore's Studio, Alston Studios, and Inter-Collegiate Press.
